Katanga Group Takes Seat in Parliament

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Six Katanga deputies took their seats today in the national Congo Parliament. They were expected to demand revision of the Congo's provisional constitution to relax the control the basic law gives the central government over Katanga and the other provinces.

Nine more Katanga deputies were due from Elisabethville today. Seeing the first group off from Elisabethville, Katanga President Moise Tshombe said they would hold out for a Congo confederation that would give his rich province considerable independence despite the Katanga unity pact. The central government contended the terms Tshombe put on his deputies' mission were at sharp variance with the agreement he reached a week ago with Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula.

Tshombe charged in Elisabethville today that U.N. troops are preparing for a new military offensive against Katanga and that the U.S. ambassador in Leopoldville, Edmund A. Gullion, is behind it.

Tshombe told a hurriedly called news conference that the United Nations is planning to renew hostilities if the Katanga National Assembly fails to meet Jan. 3 to discuss his agreement with Adoula. His charges against Gullion were apparently prompted because the U.S. envoy, acting on President Kennedy's instructions, helped bring Tshombe and Adoula together at Kitona last week.

Tshombe said in his secessionist capital that the delegates were sent to bargain for a change in the Congo provisional constitution, which provides for a strong central government, and not to sit in the National Parliament.

"Our Katanga constitution is the basis of the coming Leopoldville talks," Tshombe declared. "It prescribes integration in a federation or a confederation of the Congo. We still insist on a confederation."

This indicated Tshombe had sent the delegation in compliance with Article 5 of the Katanga agreement, in which he agreed "to the participation of representatives of the province of Katanga in a government commission to prepare a new constitution."

Adoula's government, however, expected the Katanga representatives in fulfillment of Article 6 of the agreement, in which Tshombe agreed "to take all measures to permit senators and deputies of Katanga Province to exercise the national functions (that is, participate in the National Parliament)."

The central government said it communicates it hopes the Katanga deputies "will participate actively in the parliamentary debates and that they will accomplish their duty until the close of the session."

The Congo's draft constitution, still to be ratified 18 months after independence—calls for a strong central government.

George Ivan Smith, senior U.N. representative in Katanga, said the Katanga Provincial Assembly will meet in Elisabethville Jan. 3 to debate the Katanga declaration.

"President Tshombe has asked us (the U.N.) to provide guarantees for the delegates during the meeting and also safe conduct privileges as they travel to Elisabethville for the session," Smith said.

U. S. to Help Russians in Research

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission has approved the export to the Soviet Union of a small quantity of radioactive steroids for use in medical research.

Steroids are a group of chemicals which include such compounds as cholesterol, the sex hormones and cortisone. Those in the approved shipment, the AEC said Wednesday, are made radioactive with carbon 14. This will permit the movement of the compounds to be traced through the bodies of experimental animals. The substances are used in studies of metabolism.

The export licenses was granted to the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology at Shrewsbury, Mass. The materials, involving 60 microcuries of carbon 14, will be shipped to Dr. Nicolai A. Yudaev of the U.S.S.R. Academy of Medical Sciences in Moscow.

The AEC emphasized that the material to be exported has no military value.

U. S. Indicts Three in Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A federal grand jury has indicted a state senator and two other Baton Rouge men in connection with the wiretapping of telephones of two clergymen who had signed a declaration denouncing racial discrimination.

The indictments were returned Wednesday after a long investigation. Lawrence A. Hall, a private detective, was cited in two counts alleging he intercepted phone conversations and made them public. One conversation was between Rabbi Marvin Reznikoff and Wade Mackie, executive director of the American Friends Service Committee. The other was between Mackie and the Rev. Benjamin Irvin Cheney, former pastor of the Broadmoor Baptist Church and now a resident of Atlanta.

Sen. Wendell Harris, a leading segregationist and a member of the state sovereignty commission, and Leon Patterson, head of a Baton Rouge equipment firm, are charged with transmitting the information to various persons, including Frank Voelker, chairman of the sovereignty commission; John Deer, its chief investigator; and Sargent Pitcher, East Baton Rouge Parish district attorney.

Another Plant to Expand

SILAM SPRINGS (AP)—A $150,000 expansion which is expected to create 40 new jobs has been announced by the Allen Industries here.

Allen Industries President Delbert Allen said work would begin next week on two additional warehouses and another processing room.

Allen said more than 200 persons already were employed the year round at the two plants here. More than 400 persons are employed in the peak canning season during the summer. Allen's two plants here are the Allen Canning Company and Allen Foods, Inc.

Swindler of $817,000 Pleads Guilty

NEW YORK (AP)—Samuel Rubin, accused of mushrooming a forged $10,000 promissory note into an $817,000 swindle, pleaded guilty Wednesday to three counts of grand larceny.

General Sessions Court Judge George Postel released Rubin, 49, in $5,000 bail pending sentencing Feb. 16. Rubin could get up to 10 years on each count. Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard Newman had described Rubin as cooperative with investigators.

Rubin's first forged note, for $10,000, occurred in 1945 while he was working for a commercial finance company.

During the next 15 years, the state said, Rubin poured more than $10 million in false notes through a bank account he had set up as a cover. Principal victims of Rubin's operations were the Chemical Bank New York Trust Co. branch at Broadway and 38th st., which lost $475,000. Other losers were listed as Pam & Co., 370 Seventh Ave., and Cohen-Manheimer Co., 131 W. 30th St., both commercial finance concerns, $47,656 each. Stockholders in Rubin's firms were said to be out $249,288.

Rubin told authorities he always hoped to cover any larcenies with profits of his legitimate businesses, but he added, "I never quite did."

Rubin resided with his wife in a $90,000 home in Atlantic Beach, N.Y. The couple have a married daughter and a son in college.

Last October Rubin, learning that the Chemical Bank was thinking of reviewing all its notes, invited a bank official to his home and confessed that he had some bad notes. He asked for time to raise the money. But banking officials went to the district attorney's office.

Sees Higher Standards for Teachers

CHICAGO (AP)—The head of the teachers union predicted today that in the next five years to a decade public schools will attain new, higher standards under collective bargaining.

Carl J. Megel, Chicago, president of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers, made the forecast at the annual midyear meeting of the federation's executive council.

A national pattern was set, he said, when New York City teachers elected by a nearly 2-1 vote the United Federation of Teachers, Local 2 of the AFT, as their bargaining agent.

"It is only logical now that other large and small American federations of teachers' locals will take similar steps," Megel said. "The public will find that teachers who walk upright in their own behalf are better teachers."

Hard Time Getting That Million

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Getting your hands on a million dollars is difficult.

John H. Martin, president of Guaranty Savings & Loan Association, thought it would be nice to have a million dollars on display for opening-week ceremonies Jan. 2-10 at a new branch near San Jose.

Fred Oehler, area manager for Wells Fargo American Trust Co., told Martin he'd be glad to lend him the million, until he realized Martin wanted it in cash.

"They finally worked it out. Wells Fargo will get the money from the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco, count it, turn it over to an armored car firm, which will count it and bring it to Martin's new office."

The million will be placed under a plastic covering and will be guarded around the clock. Lloyd's of London has underwritten insurance on the million.

Martin said his firm will give away samples of cash during the opening week. Each visitor will receive a penny.

Wants Union Declared Red Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hearing examiner has recommended that the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers be declared a Communist-infiltrated organization, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy announced today.

If the recommendation of Francis A. Cherry, the examiner is adopted by the Subversive Activities Control Board, the union will be ineligible to bargain for or represent employees under the National Labor Relations Act.

The Labor Department directory of labor unions lists the union as having 200 local unions with a total 100,000 members. Its national headquarters are in Denver, Colo.

Cherry's recommendation came after more than four years of hearings ended last May, during which nearly 150 witnesses were heard.

Cherry, a member of the five-man Subversive Activities Control Board, held that the union was "substantially directed, dominated or controlled by individuals who are (or have been) actively engaged in giving support to the Communist party of the United States."

Damage Suit for $200,000 Filed

MEMPHIS (AP)—A $200,000 damage suit has been filed by the parents of a Mississippi girl who was slain in a Memphis supermarket.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Vaiden of Olive Branch, Miss., accused Food Center of Tennessee, Inc., of failing to take measures which might have prevented Sharon Vaiden's death.

The 13-year-old girl was stabbed to death by Freddie Green, a 19-year-old Negro porter at the store. He was convicted of murder and convicted to die in the electric chair.

Sharon was killed in the basement of the store, where she had gone to the women employees rest room while her mother was shopping.

Among other things, the suit filed Wednesday charges negligence in the maintaining of rest rooms "in a remote inaccessible part of the building where none of the defendant's employees was regularly on duty."

JFK Working on Economy, Budget Reports

By FRANCES LEWINE

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy temporarily put aside work on his State of the Union message today and turned instead to his economic report to Congress.

He planned to meet with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman; the chairman of his Economic Advisory Council, Dr. Walter Heller; and other key advisers.

This will be the first major run-through on the economic message, press secretary Pierre Salinger said.

The President, basking in the warm sun of his Palm Beach seaside White House, continued a holiday schedule of relaxation, conferences and hospital visits to his ailing father, Joseph P. Kennedy, 73.

The elder Kennedy's condition was reported unchanged today. He spent a "satisfactory night," Dr. Marco Johansson, one of his physicians, said.

Congress convenes Jan. 10. There is no timetable of dates yet for delivery of the State of the Union, budget and economic messages.

Freeman came in today to discuss some of the farm program aspects of the economic message, Salinger said.

Both Freeman and Heller plan to return to Washington tonight.

The other advisers, including Budget Director David E. Bell, White House special counsel Theodore Sorensen and assistant counsel Myer Feldman, are expected to remain here through Saturday to continue talks with the President.

They will get back to the State Continued on Page Two

22 Beauties in Cotton Maid Contest

MEMPHIS (AP)—With smiles polished to a high shine, 22 beauties stepped up today to try to pile up points in the annual Maid of Cotton contest.

The schedule included photographing sessions, a luncheon, television appearances, briefings and a dinner dance, all under the eyes of seven judges. They will pick a winner and two alternates Friday night.

It's a demure affair. Physical measurements—unless the young lady herself mentions them—are a dead secret. There are no swim suit parades.

"We are not necessarily looking for Venus," the ground rules proclaim in outlining emphasis on beauty, personality, background and training.

The winner picks up an extensive wardrobe, as much of it in cotton as possible, and makes a six months tour to help publicize cotton. When she bows out next December she receives a new car.

Since many of the maid's duties involve appearances at high fashion shows, a primary requirement is the potential ability to model clothes.

An invitation-only audience will be on hand for contest finals at the Cotton Bowl first appearance at the Cotton Bowl football game in Dallas New Year's Day.

Weather Halts British Trains

LONDON (AP)—Britain's continuing spell of arctic weather stopped trains on London's subway system today and spread fog, snow and ice across much of the country.

Freezing temperatures were recorded most everywhere.

Weather Has Cold Grip on Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Deep cold clamped on the Midwest today and spread its breath over much of the eastern third of the nation.

The arctic front precipitated snow, sleet and rain in the East and Southeast, reviving highway dangers of icy pavements and snow slicks.

The mercury reached 17 degrees below zero in Clintonville in Central Wisconsin, and -16 at Eau Claire and Stevens Point, Wis., and at Bradford, Ill., 30 miles north of Peoria.

In Pennsylvania, turnpike traffic was restricted to a 35-mile m.p.h. speed because of the treacherous conditions created by up to 4 inches of new snow.

Heavy snow left a 4 to 5-inch mantle on northwestern sections of Virginia. Northwestern North Carolina and Eastern Tennessee had 3 inches of snow. Ice and snow coated much of the Cumberland plateau. Snow also spread interior New England.

Six to 8 inches of new snow fell in the Elkins, W. Va., area in the northeastern part of the state, and there were 4 to 8 inches in the southern area around Beckley.

In Kentucky, Harlan reported 6 inches, and 4 inches were measured between Hazard and Pikeville.

There was rain from Southeastern New York to the eastern Carolinas.

Light snow and flurries dusted the middle Mississippi Valley, the Great Lakes region and the north. Heavy rains in the Midwest and -7 in Milwaukee.

Subzero weather generally covered Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois and Upper Michigan. Low readings included -12 at Green Bay, Wis., and Dubuque, Iowa; -11 at Duluth, Minn., and Madison, Wis.; -10 at LaCrosse, Wis., Marquette, Mich. and Moline, Ill.

Temperatures moderated to near normal levels in most of Florida after unseasonably cold earlier this week. Readings were mostly in the 50s and 60s, with Miami reporting 62.

Apparently They All Want to Run

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—One result of the announcement of Rep. Dale Aford as a candidate for governor has been to step up speculation about who else will be in the race.

Names of a number have been mentioned. At least some of them would run, if at all, only if Gov. Orval E. Faubus doesn't.

Those speculated on as possible candidates include:

Former Gov. Sid McMath, who broke with his former protégé, Faubus, on the racial issue and other matters.

Marvin Melton of Jonesboro, former state senator and board chairman of the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce.

W. R. (Witt) Stephens, utilities executive and representative from Grant County.

Olen Hendrix of Prescott, a state senator and chairman of the State Hospital board.

J. Orville Cheney, former revenue commissioner and now chairman of the Arkansas Commerce Commission.

Atty. Gen. Frank Holt.

Stephens, Hendrix and Cheney are Faubus supporters; Melton and Holt have not been identified publicly as either being pro-Faubus or anti-Faubus.

JFK Will Ask $100 Million to Help Congo

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will ask Congress for $100 million to buy United Nations bonds to help pay for the U.N.'s Congo operations.

In announcing this today, Harlan Cleveland, assistant secretary of State for international organization affairs, acknowledged that he expects the request will stir debate. Some leading legislators have been critical of the U.N. Congo action.

But it is in the national interest of the United States to help bail the U.N. out of its financial woes, Cleveland said, adding:

"Congressional approval of this proposal will frustrate the Soviet attempt to starve the United Nations into submission, and will preserve the U.N. for its vital executive role in international politics."

UN Told of Tension in Middle East

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Iraq told the U.N. Security Council today British military activity is causing a tense and grave situation in the Middle East.

Referring to the movement of British armed forces toward oil-rich Kuwait, Iraq Premier Abdel Karim Kassam's government asked that the council's members be informed of the situation.

Iraq lodged a claim last June to sovereignty over Kuwait. Britain sent troops in at that time and established watch over the Iraqi-Kuwait border. Military units of other Arab nations later supplanted the British.

In a cable to the Security Council, Foreign Minister Hashim Jawad said the British government's object now is to "exercise pressure upon small states and to intimidate them into submission with a view to perpetuating its political and economic domination with a view to perpetuating its illegitimate imperialistic interests through its traditional gunboat policy."

Jawad said Iraq was anxious to draw the attention of the Security Council to the dangers involved to peace and security in the Middle East and to the disastrous consequences of aggressive British movements.

By such moves, he added, the British government is disturbing peace in the region in general and threatening the security of Iraq in particular.

The Iraqi cable said these military preparations and threats have been accompanied by propaganda against Iraq.

26 Injured in Mountain Village

NORTON, Va. (AP)—A series of explosions wrecked a powder plant and destroyed or damaged every home in the tiny mountain village of Sutherland Wednesday. Twenty-six persons were injured.

Five explosions were touched off by a fire in the Whitaker Atlas Supply Co. The company sells blasting powder for mining operations.

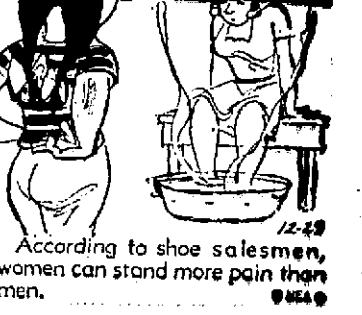

The final explosion—which shook buildings and broke glass as far away as 10 miles—knocked down five nearby houses and heavily damaged the remaining 15 in Sutherland.

Twenty-one persons were treated and released at Norton Hospital. Five others were admitted with serious injuries.

At Norton, six miles away, the explosion shattered plate glass windows along the city's main street.

Houses surrounding the burning building were hastily evacuated, a move authorities credit with saving many persons from serious injury.

According to shoe salesman, women can stand more pain than men.

Banks Boost Interest on Deposits

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A number of east and northeast Arkansas banks increased interest rates by 1/2 of one percent on savings this week, effective Jan. 1. The increase seems likely to spread throughout the state.

Rates on savings accounts were boosted from 3 to 3 1/2 per cent, and on one-year time deposits, from 3 1/4 to 4 per cent.

Higher maximum rates were set recently by the Federal Reserve System and Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

They have been adopted in the East and were announced recently for Memphis, which has a strong financial influence on East Arkansas.

Arkansas cities and towns where banks have announced the higher rates include: Jonesboro, Forrest City, Blytheville, Osceola, Wilson and Leachville.

Jack Barnett, president of the Little Rock Clearing House Association, said banks in the capital city area, had adopted a "wait and see" attitude but might have an announcement within a few days.

It is estimated that the United States will be using about 88 per cent of its fresh water supplies by 1975.

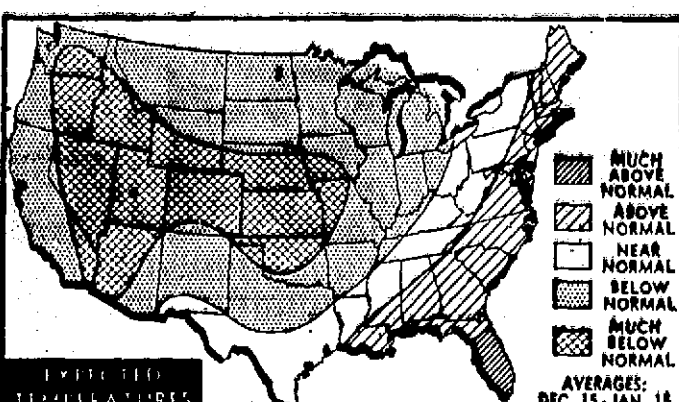

been sitting in on the daily sessions with Kennedy. The latest was secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, who drove here Wednesday from his winter home at nearby Hobe Sound.

After looking in on the elder Kennedy, whose illness has been the center of family attention during this holiday season, the President returned for his own year-end medical check-up.

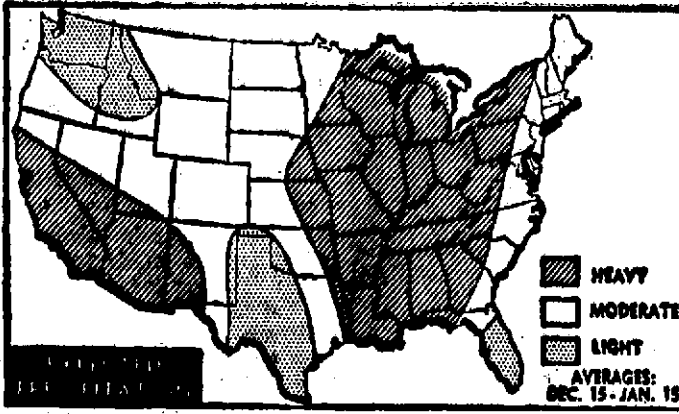

Dr. Preston Wade, a New York specialist, reported the health of the President, 44, was generally excellent and that his troublesome back condition had improved. But he added that Kennedy will have to wait several months more before he can once again resume vigorous physical activity, such as playing golf.

And, said Dr. Wade, the President "must expect to experience, as do all people with similar back troubles, ups and downs and occasional setbacks."

Dr. Wade said the exercises Kennedy has carried on in the past 2 1/2 months have made his back much stronger than it was last summer, and he is "making good progress."

Winter pattern so far—colder than normal in the western two-thirds, warmer in the east—will continue into 1962.

Precipitation will be heavy in Southwest and in a broad belt west of Atlantic seaboard and near normal elsewhere.

Three Held in Store Robbery

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Three Craighead County men were held in county jail on an open charge Wednesday night following a grocery store robbery near here.

Sheriff Lammie Cooper identified the trio as Bobby Payne, 29, and his brother, J. H. Payne, 30, and their brother-in-law, Eunice Martine, 35. All live near here.

Officers said William V. Chapman, 55, who operates a grocery store five miles north of Jonesboro on State Highway 141, reported two masked men robbed him of an estimated $110.

Less than an hour after the robbery, the three were stopped in a Paragould roadblock. Officers said $104.77 was found in their car.

They suspects were quoted as saying the money was won during a gambling session at Truman Wednesday afternoon.

Oral Arguments in School Case

DE WITT, Ark. (AP)—Chancellor Lawrence Dawson today began hearing oral arguments in a taxpayers' suit against the De Witt School Board.

Testimony was completed several weeks ago.

A group of De Witt School district residents sued the board, charging illegal purchases and questionable business and administrative practices.

The plaintiffs asked that the board be enjoined for similar practices and forced to return any money the district might have lost.

The defendants denied all allegations and asked for dismissal of the suit.

Announces Plant Addition

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—The Flanders Manufacturing Co. has announced plans for a $100,000 addition to its plant here next year.

Company President Don Flanders said the 21,000 square foot steel building would allow a production increase of 30 per cent. He said the work force would be increased by about 15 employees.

The company manufactures desks and bedroom furniture.

Stock Market Rally Is Continuing

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The year-end rally in the stock market continued early this afternoon with trading heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.20, at 2:30.40 with industrials up 2.10, rails up .40 and utilities up .50.

Advances of most key stocks were fractional but here and there was a gain of a point or better.

Brokers saw the rise as essentially technical in nature. The rally began Wednesday as the list posted its first clear-cut advance in 10 sessions. Many stocks were low enough to become more active as buyers again. At the same time, most year-end tax selling was apparently out of the way.

High quality issues paced the continued upsurge. Investment funds replenished their supplies of blue chips to dress up their annual reports.

Industrials carried the burden of the advance. Rails and utilities were ahead on balance. Some of the best early prices were shaded as trading wore on.

A number of issues were unchanged and there was an assortment of small losers.

Douglas Aircraft fell more than 3 points before paring a point.

Nehru Silent on Invasion

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today he did not discuss India's invasion of Goa and two other Portuguese enclaves with the Soviet Union beforehand and had no advance indication of Moscow's support.

He told a news conference "We tried to find some way of escape" from military attack. But he rejected any suggestion that India withdraw from the former Portuguese territory now.

Nehru said the invasion date was postponed twice because of diplomatic approaches by the United States and Britain urging a peaceful settlement. He said the final American effort came too late—only three hours before Indian troops struck.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange in active trading.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were mixed.

Minister Dies

ATLANTA (AP)—Funeral services for Dr. John Jeter Hurt Sr., 88, a former Arkansas Baptist minister, were scheduled for this afternoon at the Second Ponce de Leon Baptist Church here. Dr. Hurt, who died Tuesday, edited the Baptist Advance in Arkansas and was former pastor at Conway.

Reduction Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lawyers for Irvin C. Scarbeck, former Foreign Service officer convicted of giving U.S. secrets to Polish agents, have filed a motion asking reduction of his 30-year prison sentence. They described it as "harsh and unjust."

Scarbeck, married and the father of three, was convicted two months ago in a trial that brought out his involvement with a dark-haired Polish girl, Ursula Disch.

He was serving as second secretary to the American Embassy in Warsaw.

that Kennedy has approved it and that it is balanced. It is expected to be in the neighborhood of $92 billion, about $3 billion above this year.

Today, the President turned to the important State of the Union Message which he personally will deliver to Congress shortly after it convenes on Jan. 10.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said Kennedy probably will spend the rest of the week working on this review of the nation's progress in the past year, both foreign and domestic. It also traditionally includes a prediction of what may lie ahead.

Surgery Separates Siamese Twins

EL CAJON, Calif. (AP)—The Hutchens twins, separated by surgery when they were 17 days old, tried out their Christmas cap pistols and other toys like the normal 5-year-olds they are now. "You mention the word Siamese to them and you've got a fight on your hands," their mother, Mrs. Floyd Hutchens, said Tuesday. "They don't know what it means and it bothers them."

The boys, Gary and Larry, were born Siamese twins—joined at the spine by a bridge of tissue. "They never had any complications after the surgery. They climb, run and fall down like all boys," she said.

Thailand and Cambodia severed diplomatic relations and closed their mutual border last month. Relations between Cambodia and South Viet Nam never have been friendly.

Foreign Aid May Include Rice, Soybean

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rice, like soybeans, soybean oil and wheat, may become featured under U.S. Food for Peace and other foreign aid programs next year.

This was indicated Wednesday when Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced that the 1962 crop rice acreage allotment will be 1,817,856 acres, an increase of 10 per cent over this year's allotment.

This increased allotment was made at a time when rice is considered a surplus crop and when supplies already are being moved abroad under foreign aid programs.

Hence, a larger rice crop next year would require the government to move significantly greater amounts abroad unless there should be an unexpected increase in commercial market demands.

In the case of soybeans, Freeman increased price supports from $1.15 a bushel for the 1960 crop to $2.30 for the 1961 crop. This brought a 25 per cent increase in the crop and subsequent sharply increased purchases by the government of soybean oil for foreign aid.

Wheat has been a big foreign aid item for years because of big domestic surpluses and also because it is an economical food.

In announcing the rice acreage increase, Freeman said "unsettled world conditions, particularly in rice-consuming and rice-producing areas, prompt the need for some increase in 1962-crop rice acreage in order to assure adequate supplies to meet export needs."

Freeman also set Jan. 23 as the date for a grower referendum on marketing quotas for next year's rice crop. Quotas must be approved by at least two-thirds of

Conservatives No Threat, Senator Says

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., disputed today Republican contentions that a wave of conservatism threatens administration programs in Congress.

Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, said in an interview his travels during the recess of Congress have convinced him the country "is still on the middle road, politically, and is going neither to the extreme right nor the extreme left."

"There is a need and a place for conservatives in our scheme of political things," he said. "But I would separate the real conservatives from the extreme right wingers who feel that they have the only answers to our problems—those who insist on dealing in black and white when all the world's problems are gray."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois told a news conference Wednesday he agrees with House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana that there is a revival of conservatism which could affect Democratic control of Congress in next year's elections.

Halleck previously had said a "wave of conservatism apparent throughout the country" might sweep the GOP into control of the House.

Dirksen was a little more cautious in his political estimates. But he agreed with Halleck's contention that younger people are becoming more interested in Republican policies than they have in the recent past.

Asked why this was, he replied: "The young people have been watching all of these spending programs and they are getting concerned about the debts they are going to have to pay. There is an amazing interest among them in politics."

Dirksen made it clear that Republicanism will bear down in the new session on efforts to balance the budget. He said he would be ready to vote for higher taxes if that is necessary to bring about a balance. But he added that Republicans will want to concentrate first on cutting non-essential spending.

In a lengthy discussion of Kennedy's projected request for broad authority to negotiate tariff reductions, Dirksen indicated he would support only a one-year trial program. He left little doubt he thinks Republicans will insist on inserting escape clauses to protect threatened industries.

Wants Gas Masks for CORE Members

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The field secretary for the Congress of Racial Equality — CORE — has asked President Kennedy to let Negroes buy surplus gas masks so "we might continue our peaceful demonstrations here in the South."

The CORE official, the Rev. B. E. Cox of High Point, N.C., said after his release from jail Wednesday that he made the request to Kennedy in a telegram.

Baton Rouge police used tear gas Dec. 15 to quell a demonstration by about 1,500 Negroes protesting racial discrimination.

Cox faces trial Jan. 3 on charges of inciting to riot and conspiring to incite riot in connection with the demonstrations.

Still Chance to Keep Laos Talks Alive

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
By RENE GEORGES INAGAKI

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Nettelist Prince Souvana Phouma met today with King Savang Vathana and said he would try to keep alive negotiations to form a coalition government.

Souvana Phouma, who has been designated to head the new coalition regime, warned collapse of the talks could plunge Laos into an East-West war as well as civil conflict.

Souvana and his pro-Communist half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, were given the brushoff by pro-Western Prince Boun Oum Wednesday when they arrived here for talks. But they remained in the capital under heavy guard.

Boun Oum challenged Souvana's self-proclaimed neutrality and bluntly declared he was not prepared to bargain over cabinet posts in the proposed new government intended to ensure Laos' neutrality.

Souvana Phouma and Souphanouvong, whose military forces won control of more than half of Laos earlier this year, had come to Vientiane expecting to dicker with Boun Oum over the distribution of cabinet portfolios among their three factions. They already had agreed the 16-man cabinet would include four Boun Oum adherents, eight neutralists and four Pathet Lao men.

After a meeting of less than an hour, Boun Oum said Souvana should draw up a coalition cabinet and submit the list to the other political groups for their approval. He also demanded that the eight neutralists be divided equally between "Vientiane neutralists" and "Souvana neutralists" and that the key posts of defense and interior be given to his own conservative faction.

Some officials of Boun Oum's government said the premier was angered by Souphanouvong's airport speech on arrival, in which he made a violent attack on Boun Oum and his American backers.

Ohio State Takes Well Earned Win

By DON WEISS

Memo to Woody Hayes: Hey coach, Ohio State is going to play UCLA after all. But don't pull back those Christmas cards with the drooping roses. The game is not in your sport.

The Ohio State Buckeyes, stopped by a faculty committee from accepting a Rose Bowl football invitation to play the Uclans at Pasadena, will bring it off in basketball instead—tonight in the semi-finals of the powerful Los Angeles Chics.

The Bucks, unanimous choices of No. 1 among the college hoopsters again this season, made it eight in a row with a hard-earned 59-49 first round victory over Washington at the Los Angeles Arena Wednesday night. Jerry Lucas, the two-time All-American, led with 20 points and a bundle of rebounds for the Bucks, who'll meet a UCLA team that toyed with Army 86-72 in its tournament opener.

The other semifinal matches fourth-ranked Southern California, an 80-63 winner over Purdue, and unranked Utah, which whipped seventh-ranked West Virginia, 84-83.

Ten other major tournaments will be in action tonight, including such choice pairings as defending NCAA champ Cincinnati vs. La Salle and unbeaten Dayton vs. Wisconsin in the Holiday Festival at New York; and Villanova vs. third-ranked Duquesne in a semi-final battle of unbeaten in the Quaker City tournament at Philadelphia.

The All-College matches Bowling Green, which knocked Seattle out of the unbeaten ranks 70-61 Wednesday night, against Wichita, 71-69 victor over Texas A&M in overtime; plus a game between Tuesday's winners, Houston and Utah State.

Here are Wednesday night's key games:
Los Angeles Classic—Lucas' 20 points and rebounding, John Havlicek's 12 points and solid defense by the whole club kept Ohio State in control against Washington, although the Huskies once got to within four points in second half.

Southern Cal (8-1) got 19 points apiece from John Rudometkin and Chris Appel and held All-American Terry Dischinger to 12—less than half his average—in romp over once-beaten Purdue. Gary Cunningham's 21 points, 17 in first half, triggered UCLA's rout of Utah (9-1) spilled West Virginia to its second loss in eight starts.

Big Eight—Mike Wroblewski's 20 points led fifth-ranked Kansas State (8-1) over Nebraska; and Missouri (5-4) upset Oklahoma State (7-2) 60-44 with a second half rally.

Far West at Portland, Ore.—Washington State, with Terry Ball scoring 23, spilled California 61-54, and Oregon State crushed Michigan 89-54. Tonight, it's Idaho-Portland and Oregon-Michigan State, completing the first round.

All-College at Oklahoma City—Bowling Green (6-1), down by 11 at the half, routed Seattle in second half, with 6-8 Nate Thurmond leading the way with 18 points. Then Wichita, with a 9-1 record including a one-point upset of Cincinnati, edged Texas A&M in overtime as Ernie Moore scored after swiping an Aggie pass with 11 seconds left.

Gulf South at Shreveport—Richie Goldberg's 24 points led Mississippi Southern's 81-72 triumph over Louisiana Tech; and Centenary downed Murray (Ky.) 81-69.

Kentucky, ranked sixth nationally, headed the teams playing in nontournament activity. The Wildcats, with Larry Pursifull hitting for 25 points and Cotton Nash and Carroll Burchett 16 apiece, thumped Yale 79-58 for their seventh victory in eight starts. Ralph Wells scored the last four of his 21 points in overtime for Northwestern's 64-62 decision over Princeton; St. Louis snapped a four-game losing streak, 81-72 over Notre Dame; New Mexico State whipped Brigham Young 70-64 and Marquette routed Wisconsin's Milwaukee branch, 93-0.

Optimistic Over Port at Osceola

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP) — City Officials were optimistic Wednesday after a conference with Army Engineers on a plan to make Osceola a Mississippi River port.

Mayor Ben Butler said the outlook was encouraging but that further information must be compiled before any decision can be reached.

The conference in West Memphis was to outline results of a feasibility study conducted by the U.S. Engineers on the possibilities of river port facilities along the river just south of the city limits.

Construction would be financed in part by the federal government under a new law providing for the renovation or construction of river ports and cities or towns which once had port facilities but were left high and dry due to channel changes.

Fat Airmen Told They Must Reduce

LONDON (AP)—Fat American airmen at two U.S. air bases in Britain have been ordered to slim down.

The order has gone out to more than 100 flight crews and about 2,000 ground crewmen to reduce to 10 pounds below the maximum permitted weight.

"If you stick to the figures in the book and take a man off a diet as soon as he reaches the permitted maximum, he'll be five pounds overweight again in a couple of weeks," said Lt. Col. James Asher, flight surgeon at Farnborough Base in Suffolk.

Asher said the reducing drive was a precaution against coronary heart disease.

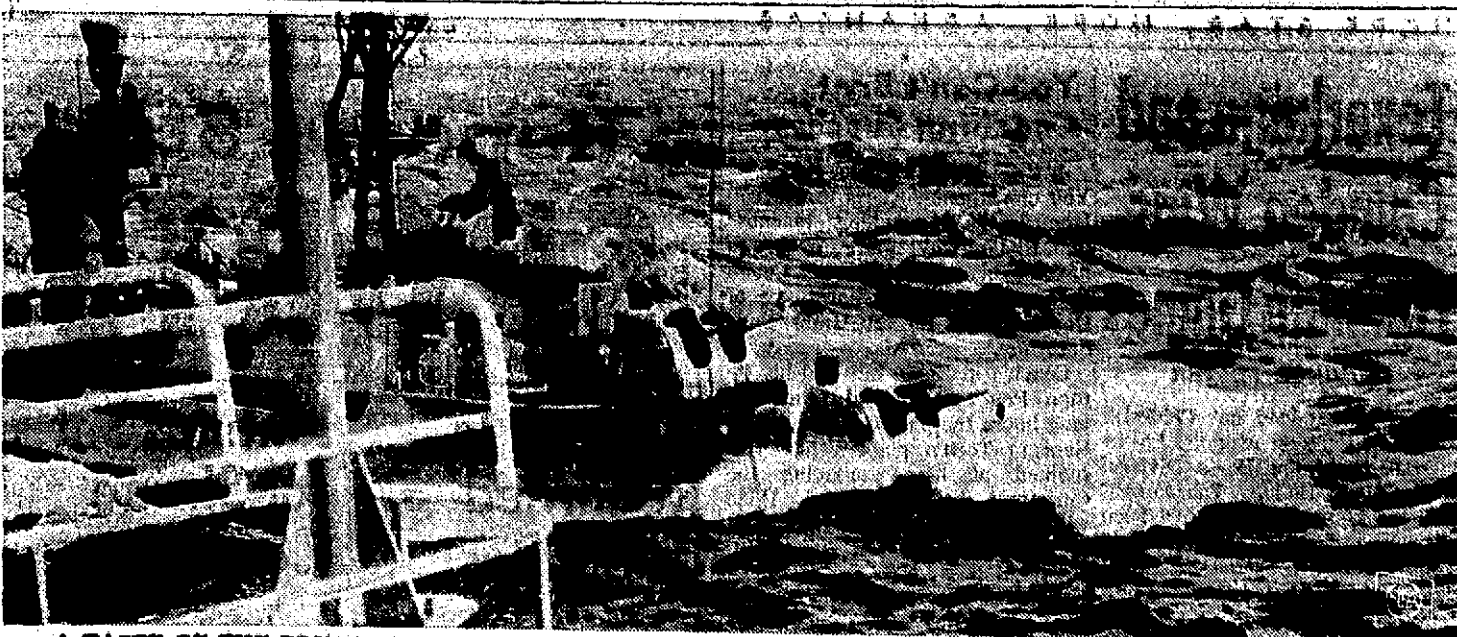

"We've had one man 28 suffering from the disease and he was overweight," the doctor explained.

The average day's menu at the bases serves a man about 3,000 calories, but "where necessary we will put men on a diet which cuts the calorie intake by half," Asher said. As a start, the fannies have been told to cut out bread, potatoes, candy and liquor.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The government has ordered the seizure of three schools belonging to the French government's education mission in Egypt, the paper Al-Ahram said today.

The schools were operated by a French cultural-commercial mission that was permitted to return to Egypt in 1958 after the 1956 Suez invasion. Nine members of the mission were arrested Nov. 24 and accused of spying and plotting to overthrow the regime of President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Parents Seek to End Rift Between Daughter and Son-In-Law

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Our only daughter, at 18, married a fine boy she had known three years. We have taken him into our hearts and family life. He suffers from insecurity, because his parents divorced, then left him.

The four of us had many wonderful times together when, like a bolt out of the blue, our son-in-law fell in a moment of jealousy and moved to another state. Eventually, at his and our insistence, his wife joined him. We felt both might be better off away from home ties.

Ten days later she phoned in tears. Homesickness and inability to cope with marriage had floored her.

Evva Reynerton went to Camden Wednesday and performed at the Lions Club noon luncheon.

her. She cried she wanted a divorce. We talked to both and thought their difficulties ironed out.

Instead he sent her home by bus. Ever since they have been quarreling by mail and telephone. We kept quiet, praying they might be reconciled for they are deeply in love. Now he has filed for a divorce.

I am sure he would forgive her if she would forgive him. We feel that once our daughter gets a proper perspective as to her marital duties, vows and obligations, she will change her attitude.

Gradually our daughter is coming around to my way of thinking. How can I help her to understand that her salvation lies in being a good, loving and forgiving wife? I dare not offer any more motherly advice. We continue to make our son-in-law feel his home is with us but when his wife does these unthinking, youthful things, he is plunged into aloneness. They both need help. —Worried Mother

Dear Worried Mother: Your daughter hasn't grown up else she wouldn't be running home to mother. Continue to encourage her to place the requirements of marriage above her own desires, but don't condone her husband's shortcoming at the expense of her feelings.

Impress upon her that if she helps him, this will help her; that in giving she will find the warmth she now lacks. And say to him that each must make concessions to the other if they are ever to be happy together. My leaflet on "A Successful Marriage" may be the answer. It goes to you today.

Dear Helen: Last summer I had the pleasure of meeting a beautiful and wonderful girl who, though not of my nationality, attracted me exceedingly. Since she was a neighbor, I saw her every day. This, my parents being from the old country, resented. I soon discovered this lovely lady lacked the basic elements of an education, grammar, spelling and breeding. As a prospective teacher in career for which I am now preparing, I insisted that I instruct her. She fiercely rejected my offer, claiming I looked down on her and what is more, it was none of my business how she expressed herself. This saddened me. The offer was made out of goodness of heart. Where did I err? —Poor Fool

Dear Poor Fool: You were critical, which is fatal to a woman—doubtless so in your case when your parents do not approve of your girl. Read Shaw's "Pygmalion" or see "My Fair Lady," the play and movie based on it. Learn from Professor Higgins' approach to Eliza Doolittle. The same technique may work with your fair lady. If it doesn't, encourage her to go on with her schooling, and above all, cultivate a sense of humor, both of you.

Dear Helen: I love a boy in the Air Force who says he wants to marry me. The other day he confessed he is engaged to a girl back home and wouldn't name the date for our wedding until he decides which of us he really cares for. What shall I do? See him no more or wait until he makes up his mind? —Judy

Dear Judy: Give this cock-of-the-walk the gale. Of all the nerve! He should be on his knees begging you to make up yours. See no more of him.

Lie Test for Slain Man's Wife

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Helen Hickmanbottom, 39, whose husband was shot to death at their home near here Monday night, has been given a lie detector test, but the results have not been announced.

Prosecutor Joe Villines of Harrison said that a similar test was scheduled for another, unidentified, person in the investigation of the fatal shooting of Kenneth Hickmanbottom, 44.

Sheriff Doyle Hickman quoted Mrs. Hickmanbottom as saying that an "intruder" entered the couple's bedroom as they lay, fully clothed, on the bed talking, began cursing her husband and when she reached for a pistol took it from her and started shooting.

She fled from the house and ran more than a mile to the home of Hickmanbottom's employer, where officers were called.

Hickman said an autopsy showed Hickmanbottom was shot six times with a .38-caliber pistol. He said that the weapon had not been found.

No charges have been filed.

Admitted Slayer Secretly Moved

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo. (AP) — A Negro ex-convict, the admitted killer of a young white couple in a rural lover's lane Saturday, has been transferred to an undisclosed jail, apparently as a precautionary measure.

Pemiscot County Sheriff Clyde Orton refused to say where 34-year-old James (Buddy) Williams had been taken, or why.

Williams, a powerfully built man with a mustache, admitted the weekend murders of Frank Craig, 9, of Blytheville, Ark., and Brenda Joyce Raines, 17, of Holand, Mo. He also admitted raping the girl, Orton said.

The young couple, who had been dating for more than a year and had planned to marry, were slain early Saturday not far from Williams' home in rural Holland. Warrants were issued against Williams Tuesday. He is 16 years old and charged with first-degree murder and one of rape later this week.

Bonus Season for Deer Goes Through Sun.

The third deer season of the year opens in Arkansas Friday and runs through Sunday, according to Game Warden Dale Bonds who announced the following checking stations for convenience of hunters:

Hope Police Department
Fulton, Logan's Gro.
Saratoga, Corbell's Gro.
Columbus, Middlebrooks Gro.
Washington, Chism's Gro.
Ozan, Matthews Gro.
Bingen, Byers Gro.
McCaskey, Worthams Gro.
Blevins, Hampton Gro.
Spring Hill, Turners Gro.
Palmas, Rider's Gro.

The same rules and regulations which governed the first two seasons when about 250 deer were killed, are effective in this bonus season.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansians will get their last chance of this year to hunt deer during the final three days of 1961, beginning Friday and continuing through Sunday.

The three-day period is an innovation this year, and thus Albright, the Game and Fish Commission publicist, said some confusion has arisen as a result.

With an exception, Albright said the same regulations will apply as were in effect during the previous two six-day gun hunting periods.

The areas that were open to deer hunting during the previous periods will be open again except for the White River Refuge and the Shumaker area near Camden. These two will not be reopened. In 16 north Arkansas counties, this year, hunters have been permitted to kill does as well as bucks, but not to use dogs.

In other parts of the state bucks only could be killed but dogs could be used.

These two sets of regulations remain unchanged. Albright said this will be the first time that deer may be hunted on Sunday, but that will be because the previous six-day periods started on Monday and ended on Saturday.

He noted that seasons for other game included Sundays.

The season bag limit won't be changed by the year end period. The limit is still two deer for the season with not more than one to be taken in any one period.

Texas Has Even Chance, Says Broyles

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mississippi generally is favored to beat Texas in the Cotton Bowl Monday but the Longhorns will be glad to know that a man thoroughly qualified to give an opinion thinks they have an even chance of victory.

The man is Frank Broyles, coach of Arkansas, a team that lost to Mississippi 16-0 and to Texas 33-7. Arkansas was the only mutual opponent.

"I took a poll of my football team and the players voted 50-50 but my coaching staff gave Mississippi a slight edge—with full-back Billy Ray Adams in there. But with Adams out, I would say the teams are about equal and I would call the game a tossup," said Broyles.

Adams, injured in an automobile after the season was over, will miss the Cotton Bowl.

The Arkansas coach said Mississippi had the finest line a team of his ever played against and that Texas had the finest backfield. Broyles declared that "Texas can move the ball on anybody and Mississippi will have to play great on defense."

Texarkana and Camden Wins Opening Games

By VINCE FOSTER

Texarkana edged out Chidester 37-35 and Camden whipped Lewisville 56-27 in the Boy's Division of the Hope Holiday Tournament last night. In the Girl's Division Sparkman slipped by Stamps 46-40 while Lewisville ousted the Hope Lady Cats 45-26.

Sparkman took a 10-7 first quarter lead, and they were out front 21-19 at the half. A strong third quarter put Stamps out front 33-28 going into the final quarter, but Sparkman went ahead with three minutes left. They stalled the ball for the final minutes and went on to win 46-40. Wanda Gaston was high for the victors with 25 and Margaret Wells led Stamps with 23.

The Lewisville girls jumped to a big 19-6 first quarter lead and stretched it to 27-10 at the half. These consistent Ladies outscored Hope 19-16 in the second half to easily take a victory. Dubose was high for Lewisville with 18 and Janice Lloyd scored 10 for Hope. A fast, sure Camden squad led 16-11 and 25-18 in the first two quarters. The Panthers outscored Lewisville 31-9 in the second half to take an easy victory. Archie Smith was high for the victors with 19 while McKamie had 9 for Lewisville.

The Texarkana Razorbacks found they had their work cut out for them as they met a good, fast team from Chidester. The Porkers led at the half 25-18, but Chidester outscored them 11-8 in the third quarter. They also led the scoring 6-4 in the final quarter, but found themselves two points short of the Big 9 team at the buzzer. Barrow was high for the Hogs with 10, and Bacon had 18 for Chidester.

Tonight at 7 the Magnolia Panthers meet the Fairview Cardinals with the Texarkana Ladies taking on Sparkman at 8. The Hope Bobcats will tangle with a strong Stamps team at 9. Friday Texarkana will meet Camden at 7 with the winner of the Magnolia-Fairview game taking on the winner of the Hope-Stamps game at 8:15.

The victor of this game will meet the winner of the Texarkana-Camden game in the finals Saturday at 8:45 and Lewisville tangles with the winner of the Texarkana-Sparkman game in the finals of the girls division at 7:30. There will be first and second place trophies in both divisions. A large crowd was on hand last night and they saw some fine basketball, which will get better as the various teams are eliminated. Remember to boost the Bobcats at 9 o'clock tonight.

Charge May Be Filed in Slaying

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — A charge of first degree murder was lodged today against Mrs. Helen Gene Hickenbottom, 39, whose husband was fatally shot at their home near here Christmas night. Prosecutor Joe Villines did not disclose what led him to file the charge in the killing of Kenneth Hickenbottom.

Lie detector tests were given Mrs. Hickenbottom and another person whose identity was not disclosed.

Villines didn't say what the tests showed. Authorities planned to arraign Mrs. Hickenbottom late today before Circuit Judge Woody Murray, who must set bond if any is allowed.

She has been in custody for investigation since shortly after the shooting.

Officers said the 44 year old Hickenbottom was shot six times with a .38 caliber pistol.

Sheriff Doyle Hickman said Mrs. Hickenbottom told officers the couple was lying, fully clothed, across a bed in their home when an intruder entered the bedroom. Hickman said Mrs. Hickenbottom related the intruder began cursing her husband and when she reached for a pistol, it was cuffed at her waist. She said she began shooting.

Officers said Wednesday the weapon has not been found.

You Can't Beat Coaching Success

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — You can't beat success in the college football coaching business and that's why more eyebrows haven't been raised over Coach Bobby Dodd's preparation of Georgia Tech for the Gator Bowl Saturday.

Coach Rip Engle has had his 46-man Pen State squad practicing long hours the past two days while Georgia Tech's players have remained at home enjoying the Christmas holiday season. Dodd will see them for the first time in more than a week when they assemble today.

Dodd never works his squad hard for a bowl game, yet he has one of the best bowl records going—seven victories and one loss. Engle's bowl record at Pen State is perfect. The Nittany Lions defeated Alabama and Oregon the past two years in the Liberty Bowl.

Alworth Is Regarded as the Best

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Nimble-footed Lance Alworth of Arkansas will help the Razorbacks even the odds against Alabama's formidable defense when the two teams meet New Year's Day in the Sugar Bowl.

Alabama's national champion Crimson Tide ended the regular season as the top defensive team in the nation, allowing their 10 opponents a skimpy 132.6 yards per game.

Alworth, a native of Houston, Tex., who played high school football at Brookhaven, Miss., was the big gun in Arkansas' attack this year as the Porkers won a share of their third straight Southwest Conference crown.

Speed is the big asset for the 6-foot, 177-pound Alworth. He's been timed in 9.6 seconds for the 100 yard dash and 21.4 for the 220.

Alworth did just about everything for Arkansas this year but carry the water bucket. He ran for 516 yards—an average of 4.69 per carry—caught 18 passes for another 320 yards, punted 32 times for a 35.3 average and led the nation in punt returns with an average of 12 yards on 28 thrusts.

The remarkable Alworth, who landed a berth on the Associated Press' All-America second team this season, has ignored the normal requisites of a college athlete. He has combined marriage and pre-law subjects and a three-sport record—baseball and track as well as the gridiron.

Last year Alworth became the first player in 14 years to letter in three sports in a single year at Arkansas.

The Sugar Bowl is a sell-out for the Alabama-Arkansas clash. The 83,000 tickets were gone the day ticket sales began. The 1 p.m. game will be on national television (NBC).

The Razorbacks flew into Baton Rouge Wednesday for their final workouts. The temperature skidded some 30 degrees to a cold 35 from the time they landed until they reported to the practice field three hours later.

Starting linebacker Tommy Brasher suffered a knee injury in the limited contact drill. The extent of the injury won't be known until sometime today, but Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said it didn't appear that Brasher would be able to play by Monday.

At Biloxi, Miss., rain hampered Alabama's drills Wednesday. Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant had scheduled two drills but canceled the morning session, and the team watched films of Arkansas and heard scouting reports.

Lineups Set for Shrine Contest

By HARRY JUPITER

Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The lineups for the 37th Shrine East-West football game Saturday are set—except for the quarterbacks.

Both head coaches, Joe Kuharich of the East and Jim Owens of the West, still were trying to decide today between a pair of outstanding quarterbacks on each squad.

Kuharich said he probably wouldn't decide until game time whether the East quarterback would be Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State or Ron Miller of Wisconsin.

Owens had a similar problem, trying to choose between John Hadl of Kansas and Mel Melin of Washington State.

The West loaded its biggest men into its defensive line in hopes of halting East smashers Ernie Davis of Syracuse and Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, a sensational pair of All-America runners.

The East stacked up what might be an all Big Ten line for its defensive unit, with six Big Ten linemen and Nick Buoniconiti of Notre Dame.

Kuharich still was undecided today on whether he would use Angelo Daberio of Notre Dame or Gary Ballman of Michigan State as the East flanker back. Daberio is the smallest man on either squad at 5-foot-8 and 165 pounds but the little guy from Donora, Pa., is rugged.

In addition to the quarterback, the West offensive backfield stacked up as Curtis McClinton of Kansas and Mack Burton of San Jose State at halfbacks and Ren Bull of Baylor at fullback.

Hog Cagers Leave for Tournament

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas' basketball Razorbacks left for Greenville, S.C., today where their six-game winning streak is up for grabs in the annual Poinsettia basketball tournament.

The Porkers meet 4-2 Clemson Friday and give a three-inch height advantage to the Tigers who have victories over North Carolina, Virginia, Florida State and Citadel.

If Arkansas wins Friday night, they'll play the winner of the Furman - Georgia match for the championship Saturday.

The Porkers, who haven't lost since their disastrous season-opener with Kansas, are expected to start with Tommy Boyer and Larry Wofford at forward, Jim Wilson at center and Jerry Carlton and Jerry Rogers at guard.

The Tigers will go with Tommy Mahaffey and Donnie Mahaffey at forward, Woody Morgan at center and Jim Brennan and Nick Mahanovich at the guard slots.

Rainwater and T. A. King for the delay in a hearing for Joe T. Hirscheider.

Mrs. Martineau is ESD personnel director. Rainwater was Hirscheider's supervisor and King has replaced Rainwater.

Hirscheider was one of several ESD employees who testified last summer at a Civil Service Commission hearing concerning alleged solicitation of funds for Gov. Orval E. Faubus' campaign in violation of federal regulations.

A Few Facts of Life in Arkansas

By JOHN R. STARR

Associated Press Staff Writer

The Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference's decision to force Henderson State Teachers College and Ouachita to resume athletic competition may make Wayne Hardin of Arkadelphia surrender one of his two jobs.

Hardin is sports editor of student newspapers at both schools—the Henderson Oracle and the Ouachita Signal.

Hardin is a junior at Henderson, making him eligible for the Oracle post. However, he takes his journalism courses at Ouachita, opening the way to the Signal job.

Up until now there has been no conflict of interest because Henderson and Ouachita severed athletic relations years ago because of the heated rivalry, particularly among fans, the series generated.

Normally a newsman goes after the news, but the news came to the staff of Fort Smith radio station KFSA.

Within one recent week, three traffic accidents, a fire and a round of gunfire took place within eyeshot range of the station.

Eight fire trucks answered the fire alarm. The bullets were fired by police at a man who resisted arrest.

The motion almost broke up a session of the Pope County Quorum Court.

One justice of the peace suggested that court meetings be set on a different date so he wouldn't miss a day of deer season.

Floyd Carl, who writes the "Carousel" column for the Fayetteville Northwest Arkansas Times, says you never know how your family feels about you until you become ill.

Carl's three teen-aged children arrived home recently to find father in bed with a virus. Mrs. Carl reported he'd probably be indisposed for a week.

"Good," replied a 17-year-old. "Now he can't go off with the car every time we need it."

Buddy picked the wrong time to run away from home.

Buddy was a pet deer owned by the Fred McKinneys of near Warren. He was born in captivity to a doe the McKinneys nursed back to health after they found her with an injured leg.

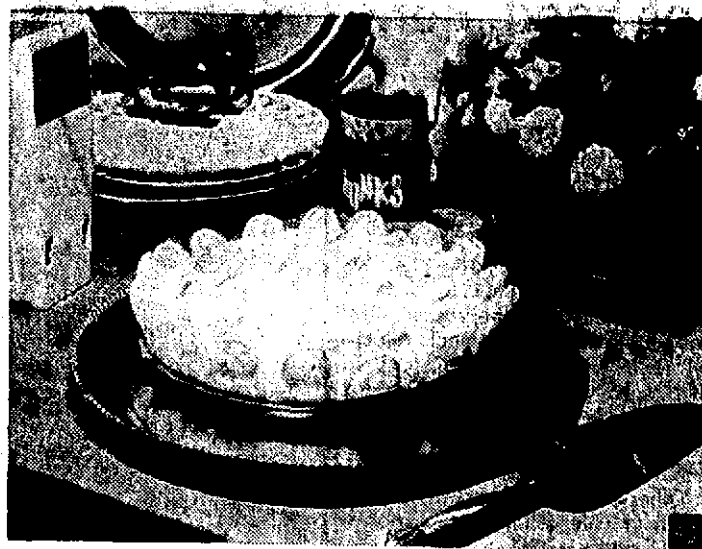

Buddy was six months old and he could jump any fence in the McKinneys' neighborhood. He jumped one too many.

One Sunday morning, after deer season ended but before hunters had lost their enthusiasm, Buddy was shot just outside the pen the McKinneys built for him and his mother.

Mena Man Crushed Beneath Auto

MENA, Ark. (AP) — John E. Fleming, 50, of Mena, was crushed to death Tuesday in a highway accident.

State Police said Fleming was driving east on Highway 270, about 4 miles west of the Acorn community, when he lost control of his automobile on a curve slippery with rain.

Fleming was thrown from the car and down a 40-foot embankment. Officers said the car rolled over him, killing him instantly.

school the way you did when you were a child—SLOWLY."

Apparently one voter hadn't made up his mind. In White County's recent hospital bond election, the bond proposal got only eight votes in Joy Township while nine were cast for a tax to pay off the bonds. Countywide, both the bonds and the tax were beaten.

In his "Local Line" column in the Fayetteville Northwest Arkansas Times, Ted Wylie reports that one newcomer to the university city, when asked why he had settled there, replied that he and his wife had come to spend one night and decided to stay after a real estate man sold them a house.

A President Has to Travel Nowadays

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's gotten so that if an American president stayed home he'd look like a snob.

In the past 11 months President Kennedy has received at least 30 visits from foreign heads of state and prime ministers plus scores of ambassadors, and has made several foreign visits himself.

There are four good reasons for this back-and-forth business:

Truly fast travel; end of isolationism and new, close ties with other countries; abandonment of the idea that only a president's subordinates should dabble in diplomacy and Premier Khrushchev himself.

It would have taken President James Madison about 2 1/2 months—allowing two weeks for a look-around—if he had wanted to visit the 1815 Congress of Vienna in those days of sail and coach.

That would be too long for any president to be away. But Kennedy could get to Vienna now in less than 11 hours by jet.

Once this country moved out of its historic isolation—with World War II—it began moving in the exact opposite direction. Now it is tied to nations around the world by military alliances and foreign aid.

This has created a community interest which this country never shared in before and makes it natural for all the big wigs involved to visit one another and talk shop.

In the long history of American isolationism it was routine for American presidents—with the brief exception of Wilson and until Franklin D. Roosevelt—to stay home and let their secretaries of state and ambassadors do the direct dealing with other governments.

There was no reason why they shouldn't have stayed home: the United States' policy was to be aloof.

The war ended that. The British and Russian foreign secretaries were nobodies in the wake of Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Joseph Stalin. Time was for show, events momentous. So Roosevelt dealt with them in person.

He made some memorable trips abroad to do so. President Harry S. Truman began the foundation of military alliances and foreign aid which President Dwight D. Eisenhower inherited. This led in time to exchange of visits, but for one particular reason above all.

Premier Khrushchev made personal diplomacy a way of life for a head of government. He said the foreign ministers were messengers boys, who could handle the grimy details after the top men made agreements.

But, he said, only the top men could get things done. Eisenhower would have looked negative or self-conscious if he had refused to meet the Russian.

The fact that his summit meeting with Khrushchev produced no successes has been pointed to by those who want a return to the stodgy diplomacy of the past as a reason why presidents should stay home.

But that summit meeting can't be called a failure. It would have been amazing if, in one brief

Nice to See Marie Wilson, Says Thomas

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's nice to see Marie Wilson back in movies—and so much of her!

When it was known that Marie would be taking a shower in "Mr. Hobbs Takes His Vacation," your reporter was there, soap in hand.

It is the third nude scene I have covered this month, the previous participants having been Julia Meade-Tom Poston and Elsa Martinelli-Charlton Heston. This one had Marie and Jimmy Stewart caught in the steamy shower room.

Marie was wearing the traditional uniform for such scenes: the flesh-colored leotard—director Henry Koster sometimes referred to it as a leopard. Normally such an outfit would satisfy all censorial objections, but on Marie it could get a theater raided. Koster had to admonish her repeatedly to hold the shower curtain where it would do the most good.

The scene has Stewart stumbling into the shower room late at night in a resort hotel. He encounters Marie, supposedly a decorous bird-watcher but actually a late-night tippler who is steaming out her hiccupps. Stewart struggles to escape, but the door knob comes off in his hand.

The scene had to be re-shot several times. As Koster commented, "we see too much of Marie."

"Mr. Hobbs Takes His Vacation" is making up for an oversight. The films haven't been seeing enough of Marie in recent years. Her last role was as Marie Antoinette ("I lost my head") in "The Story of Mankind," an episodic marvel made in 1957 and apparently seen by no one.

Before that it was "Marry Me Again," a merry romp with Robert Cummings in 1953.

What has she been doing all this time?

"Oh, I've been busy," she said. "I guess we've played 50-60 weeks in Las Vegas in the past few years. And everywhere else, too."

"We" consists of herself and Ken Murray, her longtime sparring mate of "Blackouts."

If anything, Marie's figure is better than before—a stuporific 39-19-37 1/2. Her waist is three inches smaller than when she ruled as queen of the "Blackouts," during its seven-year Hollywood run, the hips shaved an inch. Everything else is the same.

Father Left Boy to Care for Self

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—William Kempe Jr., 7, walked out of his house Monday night during an argument between his father and his father's girl friend. A few moments later he was crushed to death by a car.

The father, William Kempe Sr., 46, told a reporter he was not disturbed when his son left the house shortly before midnight. "He does it all the time," he said. "He's old enough to look out after himself."

The motherless boy had been left in charge of two younger children for several hours while his father was at a tavern. The argument between the elder Kempe and his girl friend started after they returned from the tavern.

The driver of the car, John Tonnelli, 19, said the boy darted in front of the auto.

The father said he and Maxine Harris, 20, were involved in a heated argument when the boy walked out of the room.

This has created a community interest which this country never shared in before and makes it natural for all the big wigs involved to visit one another and talk shop.

But that summit meeting can't be called a failure. It would have been amazing if, in one brief meeting, the world's ills could have been healed.

So far Kennedy, who met Khrushchev in Vienna last June, has not had to go into lengthy negotiations on any of his foreign trips. No doubt he will in time.

That he will continue to make visits abroad—given new times and new problems—seems inevitable.

Dean Rusk in 1960, which was before he became Kennedy's secretary of state, took a dim view of personal negotiations or summit meetings by a president. He would have looked negative or self-conscious if he had refused to meet the Russian.

Kennedy, who dominates both Rusk and American foreign policy seems to think differently. He doesn't act like a man who wants someone else to do his talking for him.

And, since his visitors would still continue to pour on him, he'd have to return some of them with trips abroad, even if he didn't negotiate at all.

Canned Gravy Is Always Smooth

A word well known to chefs is "roux" . . . pronounced "roo". It simply means a mixture of melted butter or other fat and browned flour used for making "gravies". You, as a homemaker, are less familiar with the word, more familiar with the procedure as you remove a roast from the oven, measure drippings, and blend in flour and water. Since this is usually the trouble spot why not pledge yourself to end gravy-making problems forever . . . by substituting any one of the good canned gravies available at your store. Certainly you'll be proud to serve beef, chicken, or mushroom gravy at any meal.

Once you pour or ladle any one of the gravies you'll marvel at the satiny smoothness and shininess of each. Too, they're bound to please calorie watchers . . . about 1/2 fewer calories than in the same amount of homemade gravy . . . so you can feel free to serve them often with roasts, in casseroles, and in special gravies such as these recipes:

Camden Sauce
1 can (10 3/4 ounces) chicken gravy
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup butter or margarine
Heat gravy, stirring now and then. Sprinkle with nuts. Makes about 1 1/4 cups sauce for fried chicken.

Mushroom Burgundy Sauce
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup Burgundy or other dry red wine
1 can (10 3/4 ounces) mushroom gravy
1/2 cup onion in butter until tender. Add wine; cook a few minutes. Stir in mushroom gravy. Heat; stir now and then. Add parsley just before serving. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Lighter Side of the News in Nation

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—During the calendar year 1961, I struck a correspondence with Dr. Willard E. Edwards of Honolulu, whose middle name is Eldridge but ought to be "Endurance."

Edwards spends a lot of his spare time worrying about the calendar, and in the course of our communications he got me started worrying about it, too.

The exchange began with a piece I wrote about the "perpetual calendar" which he invented.

At the time, I wasn't greatly interested in the subject and treated it in a rather off-hand fashion. Since then, Edwards has sent me a sizable stack of additional literature on the need for revising our calendar. This was what impressed me about his endurance.

I follow it in dating my copy, but someone on the copy desk keeps changing the date back to conform with the old-fashioned standard calendar. Copy readers are notoriously unprogressive.

At any rate, in his most recent letter, Edwards reminded me that the end of the year is approaching and suggested it might be appropriate to point out what year we are about to enter.

Complete 1,962 Years

Next Monday, he wrote, "will mark the completion of 1,962 years of the Christian era, and the beginning of the 1,963rd year. This will surprise many people who look at 1961 as the 1,961st year, and will think of 1962 as the 1962nd year."

To tell you the truth, it rather surprised me. I had always been inclined to think of the year 1961 as being just that—no more, no less.

But Edwards says this is wrong because in order to count the years correctly, you have to begin at zero. To argue that there was no year zero A.D. is stupid, he adds, because the A.D. concept did not originate until the 6th Century, A.D.

I'm not certain I follow his reasoning, but I accept his premise without hesitation. Come Jan. 1 and Edwards and I will be a whole year ahead of the rest of the world.

More than 2.5 million persons are engaged in the work of maintaining the health of the U. S. population.

Round-Up Casserole

Chill winter winds bring the crowd around more and more often for gab-sessions over cups of piping hot coffee. And, not infrequently, the whole gang may stay on for dinner. This being the case, you'll want to be prepared with ingredients for several quick and easy entrees. And what could be more practical than selecting your menu from an assortment of easy-to-prepare packaged dinners—macaroni and cheese, chicken noodle or spaghetti and sauce. All are tasty, nutritious and economical—and too, they take so little shelf space.

One of our favorite spur-of-the-moment entrees is this Round-Up Casserole. All you need is a macaroni and cheese dinner and a packet of dried beef. It's so flavorful and just right for satisfying cold-weather appetites. You'll love the tender macaroni and the creamy good cheese sauce mixed with chunks of dried beef. Serve with assorted relishes, salad and hot buttered bread.

Round-Up Casserole

1 pkg. Macaroni and Cheese Dinner
1/4 pound sliced dried beef

1/4 cup margarine
1/4 cup flour
2 cups milk

Prepare the packaged dinner as directed. Sauté the dried beef in the margarine. Blend in the flour; add the milk and cook until thickened. Combine the Macaroni and Cheese Dinner with dried beef mixture.

Wide Variety of Food, Pork Is Favorite

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A wide variety of pork cuts will be served at many American dinner tables this weekend to help usher in a happy new year.

Pork loin will be the top attraction in many supermarkets in the Northeast, Southeast and Midwest, although traditional regional favorites also play a part in pork's popularity. Fresh ham, for example, is an old favorite in the Northeast, but in the Southeast it's hog jowls and blackeye peas.

Other pork items on sale include fresh picnic shoulders, smoked ham, sausage and bacon.

All this gives the housewife who produced a turkey for Christmas Dinner a chance to vary the holiday menu a bit. For those who chose ham a week ago, turkeys remain an outstanding bargain in many areas. The biggest birds are the biggest bargain in the Southwest. Broiling and frying chickens also are a top buy in the Southwest, but are higher in the Midwest and Southern California.

Beef bargains are scattered this week, although chuck roast finds favor in parts of the Southeast and Midwest. Ribs of beef are a 9 to 10 cent a pound higher in the San Francisco area because of big demand from hotels and restaurants.

Bargain prices for a variety of salad makings make green salads a good bet to go with whatever meat is selected. Supplies of lettuce are plentiful from California, Arizona and Texas, while tomatoes from California and Florida and California avocados also are plentiful and cheap. Cabbage for cole slaw also is abundant, with Texas offerings running above normal.

Other outstanding buys among vegetables include carrots, onions, potatoes, celery, squash and lettuce. Good buys in some sections are broccoli, eggplant, green onions, spinach, green beans, corn, cucumbers, peppers, radishes and sweet potatoes.

Fruit counters boast of apples, avocados, grapefruit, oranges and cranberries, while the food buy list includes limes, coconuts, bananas, lemons, pears and tangerines.

Pecans remain plentiful, while almonds, filberts and walnuts also are reported to be good buys in many areas.

Mother Is Sought in Strangling

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP)—Police probing the mysterious strangling of Gloria Eldridge, 32, in her parents' home, pressed today for solution of a second mystery: What became of the victim's mother?

State police networks carried bulletins saying Mrs. Walter Howard, 54, was sought for questioning in connection with her daughter's slaying.

Mrs. Howard, wife of the president of a bottling company, left home Christmas morning. Behind was a note, saying, "I am going to look for Gloria." Even as she left, her daughter lay dead—her body hidden behind curtains in a tiny under-the-eaves closet.

Howard afterward found his daughter's body—clad only in black lace panties and wrapped in a blanket from her own bed.

He said his wife had only a limited sum of money in her handbag when she stepped out of the house. She did not drive.

A medical examiner said Mrs. Eldridge had been strangled and had been dead days before her body was found Monday.

Detectives' queries indicated that several persons—the father and mother and Mrs. Eldridge's three children—all might have been in the large Howard home when the young woman was slain.

oral arguments Thursday in the De Witt School Board case, in which testimony was presented several weeks ago.

A group of taxpayers sued the school board on allegations that the board engaged in improper purchasing and other questionable business and administrative practices.

The plaintiffs ask that the practices be forbidden and that any money lost to the De Witt School District be restored.

The defendants have denied all allegations and asked dismissal of the suit.

Eisenhower Visits Disneyland

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—Just like any tourist might, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and family visited Disneyland amusement park Tuesday.

But that's where the resemblance to tourists ends. The ex-president was mobbed by well-wishers and autograph-seekers.

"We still love you, Ike," an elderly lady shouted at him. Eisenhower, his face ruddy from a Palm Springs vacation, grinned.

Hundreds followed Eisenhower as he and his family toured the big park in electric cars. They spent nearly six hours touring the park.

and her body dragged to the closet.

Mrs. Eldridge had been reported missing from home last Friday by her husband, Charles, when he returned to their home from employment on a construction job.

Mrs. Eldridge and her three children had been living with the Howards since September.

Signs Of Safety

A "stop" light on the road is obvious—and easy to obey! But we don't always have signs telling us when to stop. The House of Beogram, in its annual safety message, advises, "When it's one for the road, be sure it's safe," and offers these additional facts about the signs of safety.

1. First traffic lights appeared in America in 1914—25 years after the first automobile. Traffic lights signal more than just "stop and go." A green arrow means go—but yield right of way to pedestrians and other traffic. A yellow light means caution.
2. This 8-sided sign of safety, familiar as a "stop" sign, also means "winding road" and "no passing."
3. Do you know the message of this diamond-shaped sign at a glance? It warns of a railroad crossing or school zone.
4. When you see a round sign ahead, be prepared to stop! It signals a road hazard and can also denote a railroad crossing.
5. The rectangular sign is a symbol for road hazards or an intersection.
6. A triangular sign tells you to "yield right of way."

Mechanical Brains Used in Business

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Business men worried about profitless prosperity are turning increasingly to mechanical brains to help them cut costs.

And that can spell increased prosperity in 1962 for the makers of electronic computers and for some 1,300 data-processing centers.

This trend is on the authority of these makers and of the operators of centers who have a stake in fostering it. But they say that the majority of the 25,000 or more firms using this way of doing their figure work say it helps cut operating costs as well as being time-saving and convenient.

Production and sales for industry and trade as a whole are mounting just now faster than profits—and sometimes even while profits are falling. So the urge is strong to find any means of improving the profit margin.

Computer experts who have been to the Soviet Union say that the Soviets also have turned to their big computers as aids in industrial production and more recently are using them in the bigger state-owned department stores—where you wouldn't expect profits to be an objective.

Western Europe increasingly is leaning on the electronic devices to guide its spectacular drive to greater prosperity.

A big jump in the sale and rental of computers, and of their use in the many data centers around the nation, is predicted by the leading makers. To name only a few: International Business Machines, Remington Rand, Burroughs, National Cash Register, General Electric, Thompson Ramo Wooldridge.

The makers' sales and rentals this year topped a billion dollars. Rentals next year are expected to hit $1.3 billion.

Operators of independent data-processing centers (those not run by makers of the machines) predict that by the end of 1962 about 10,000 computers of various sizes will be installed at rentals of at least $100,000 a year per unit. Among such operators on a large scale are, to name only a few: Automated Procedures Corp.; C-E-I-R, Inc.; Statistical Tabulating Corp.; and Sessions

Co. Profitless prosperity is a big reason for the larger companies turning to electronic machines to help them control inventories and keep up with or ahead of the changes in the economic cycle.

The producer or merchant who knows, before his competitor, how sales are going and stocks piling up or running out has a big edge in holding down costs—and turning a profit instead of a loss.

Payroll processing, and all the other mushrooming clerical work of modern industry and retailing also sends clients to the data centers.

Both the computer makers and the center operators expect big things soon from the newest move toward information retrieval. Computers can store vast quantities of data, instantaneously available.

House Entered

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Someone broke into the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority house Tuesday while members were away for the Christmas holiday. Mrs. Laura Jennings, the house mother, said blood traces indicated the intruder cut himself on a window. She said she couldn't tell whether anything was taken.

Caramel Cookies On A Stick

When winter days turn bitter and gray, keeping young-ones indoors, it's time to plan a kitchen party. And for something different, try these Caramel Cookies-on-a-Stick. This is a treat designed for the young crowd, but you will probably find dad and Sis too nibbling a stick too! They're fun to make and easy besides. Choose one or several of your favorite slice and bake cookie flavors as the base for your "sucker." Slice the cookies as large or as small as you like, place on top of a skewer and bake. Then place caramels and two tablespoons of water in the top of a double boiler and in no time, you'll have a rich, satin smooth sauce to cover each cookie with. A sprinkling of nuts and you're ready to invite your young kitchen party guests to sit down to morsels of milk and caramel cookies-on-a-stick that they have helped to make.

Caramel Cookie Suckers

- 1 roll Refrigerated Cookies
- 1 14-oz. bag Caramels (49 caramels)
- 1/2 cup milk
- Chopped nuts
- Wooden skewers

Cut the cookies as directed on the label. Place each cookie over a skewer, allowing 1/2 inch beyond cookie. Bake as directed on the label. Cool.

Place caramels and milk in a double boiler or saucepan over low heat. Stir frequently until caramels are melted and sauce is smooth. Cover each cookie with caramel sauce, then sprinkle with nuts and place on waxed paper. Chill a few minutes until firm.

THE STORY: Among the unusual characters in the village is Simon, who believes that pigeons alighting on the statue of St. Eulalia foretell a miracle. To authenticate the Miracle, someone must count the pigeons and villagers and tourists humor him by helping with the count.

Chapter IV
To say that Simon was mad would be putting the matter too unkindly.

Simon had noticed the doves fluttering about Santa Eulalia and became convinced they were miraculous. The first thing he'd insisted on was unimpeachable accuracy; that meant two people on duty at the statue at all times. Simon was in constant fidgets finding volunteers, establishing duty rosters, shifts, reliefs and so forth. Practically everybody in the village had helped out at one or another. It just meant sitting in the square for an hour or so, reading a newspaper or writing post cards. Nobody bothered to count the doves. They just made up a reasonable figure for Simon to enter neatly in his big book. I don't know why people bothered. Except that Simon, for all his quirks, was a gentle, likable man, and it would have been terribly unkind to frustrate his simple needs.

Dennis was shooting appealing glances at me. "I'm a bit rushed today," he said to Simon. "And I'm not Roman church, you see. Perhaps I'd better—"

"Oh that doesn't matter," Simon said. "All sorts of people take the count. I had a Moslem last week. Once the count is complete, and I've analyzed the figures, we'll send them to everybody. We'll go through channels—all channels."

"Channels, eh?" Dennis said. "Yes—I think we should send a copy first to the Vatican out of simple courtesy. She's their saint, after all. But then we'll distribute copies to the Association of Christian Churches, International B'nai B'rith, the Arab League and the United Nations. Won't you please help me, Mr. Campbell?"

Dennis was smiling gently at Simon. "Yes, of course, I'll help. I'd be pleased to."

I like him for this decision he must have realized that Simon was sincere, and that there was nothing fundamentally absurd about his project. At least, he seemed aware that there might be a difference between faith and madness.

"Okay, let's go then," I said to Dennis. "After we finish with the doves I'll take you up to the Margues's."

"Odd little chap, isn't he?" "You mean crazy, don't you?" "Not exactly. He's harmless enough in any case."

"Well, I don't know. People who go around expecting miracles to happen—real miracles, that is—kind of worry me."

"But there aren't any real miracles," Dennis said. "We sat facing the church on a stone bench beside the east iron drinking fountains which the burrus used after the long hot trip up from the beach."

Santa Eulalia looked down at us from her pedestal. She stood with arms outstretched, in a pose which made it seem as if she were trying to balance the halo on her head. A cracked toe peeped out from the marble hem of her long fluted gown. Her left eye was round and blank as a billiard ball, but the right one was quite lively; the pupil had been chipped and a vein of something shiny—mica perhaps—had been exposed, and when the sun struck this her solemn face became girlish and gay with the suggestion of a glittering wink.

Several pigeons soared down from the church steeple and settled on Santa Eulalia's head. "Hello!" Dennis said. He took an envelope and pencil from the pocket of his shirt.

"What are you doing?" Dennis smiled sheepishly. "I suppose it is silly. But it's even sillier to sit here and not count them."

A dozen pigeons were fluttering about the statue now, some perched on her head, and others doing a kind of duck-waddle along the outstretched arms.

One of them flew back to the

Nasser Back Where He Started

By MOHAMMED YUSTUS

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser's domain is back where it started confined to Egypt—following severance of the loose federation that joined the little Arabian Peninsula kingdom of Yemen to the United Arab Republic.

Nasser broke the tie with Yemen Tuesday night, apparently because of the opposition of Yemen's feudal ruler the Imam Ahmed, to Nasser's accelerating program to convert the U.A.R. to socialism.

Yemeni exiles in Beirut predicted the break with Nasser might touch off a revolution in their homeland that would unseat the imam, one of the world's last absolute monarchs.

The two countries had been linked in the United Arab States, a loose federation formed a month after the proclamation of the U.A.R. joining Egypt and Syria in March 1958.

Syria broke out of the U.A.R. last September, but Nasser's government retained the name that symbolizes Nasser's thwarted dream of a unified Arab world.

The statement announcing the break with Yemen said the two governments had nothing in common "to make the federation between them an effective political instrument able to contribute positively in strengthening the Arab struggle."

In posing as the symbol of the new wave in the Middle East, Nasser could hardly afford to remain tied to the feudal Idris Sea monarch, who published a poem attacking Nasser's Arab socialism after the break with Syria.

The association between Nasser and the imam—theoretically co-presidents in the U.A.S.—never approached the working relationship that Nasser had with Syria. It was a limited association in defense, cultural and economic affairs. The U.A.R. bore most of the cost.

Contrary to popular belief, some owls see well in the daylight.

church.

"Now look," Dennis said, and there was a touch of excitement in his voice. "Supposing that one—that one there on the steeple—supposing he comes back. Should I count him again?"

"I wouldn't think so. He's had it."

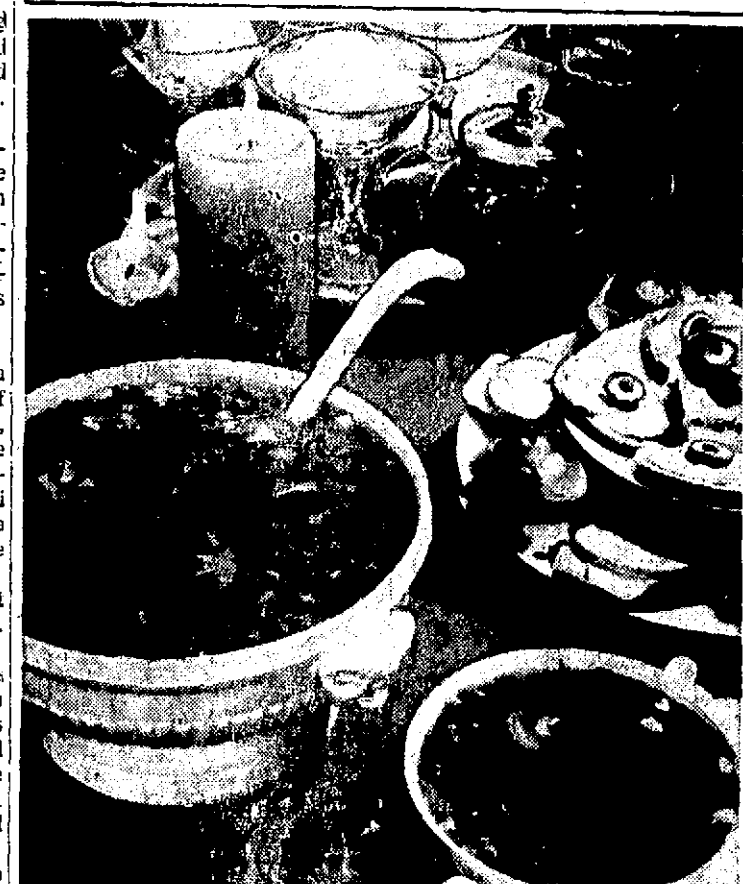

There did seem to be an unusual lot of pigeons hopping about the statue now, and Dennis was chewing the corner of his lip and making quick little pencil-strokes on the back of his envelope.

"First of all, Simon calls them doves," I said. "They're not, they're pigeons."

"Well, a pigeon is a kind of dove." "Secondly, pigeons like statues. All kinds of statues. That's a fact proven under scrupulous test conditions. I think Simon's project is harmless enough—for Simon. But I don't think you should get involved with it."

Holiday Season Means Entertaining.

'Tis the season for friendly get-togethers. While good fellowship and good food should be symbols of your holiday life, it should be fun and easy for you, the hostess. A late evening supper... for any night during the week between Christmas and New Year's... is a good choice for gathering friends together to see your Christmas decorations and gifts. Set up a "help-yourself" table. Arrange small trays and soup bowls near a tureen filled with canned condensed vegetable bean soup "partied-up" for the occasion with sliced mushrooms and bourbon. Your guests will be back for seconds.

Close by, place a tiered platter of "party-type" sandwiches. Use small fancy rolls and party rye bread. Make some closed and some open-face with fillings of deviled ham, sharp cheese, and pimiento cream cheese. Dessert... "make-your-own-sundae"... sherbets of ice cream with toppings of chocolate sauce and walnuts.

Party Vegetable Bean Soup
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed vegetable bean soup
1 cup water
1 can (2 ounces) sliced mushrooms
1 to 2 teaspoons bourbon
Combine all ingredients. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Deviled Ham Sandwiches
Combine 2 cans (2 1/2 ounces each) deviled ham, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, and 1 tablespoon pickle relish. Spread on split packaged dinner rolls. Tuck in a bit of lettuce.

The Common Market Is Confusing

By GREGORY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The common market without a scorecard, the current writer of news about foreign trade, tariffs and the European Common Market can be a little confusing.

Great upheavals are taking place in world trade, and new forces are changing the map. They may affect millions of Americans, from the cotton farmer in southwest Arkansas to the man who puts spokes in the wheels of a New England bicycle factory.

A major factor that is changing old patterns of trade in the free world is the European Economic Community, or Common Market. Here is an attempt to provide a scorecard on the Common Market, with basic answers to basic questions:

Q. What is the Common Market?

A. It is an agreement between six European nations — France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg — to lower tariff barriers between each other over a period of years to the vanishing point. At the same time they are setting up a common external tariff to deal with the rest of the world as a unit.

Q. How is it doing?

A. It is doing rather well. The six nations are ahead of schedule in lowering their internal tariffs, and business is booming under the stimulus. So much so that Great Britain, which stood aloof from the Treaty of Rome, now wants in even though it would disrupt the British Commonwealth and cause other changes in the British way of life, such as converting its ancient currency system to a decimal system. Denmark, Ireland and Norway are likely to join too. Sweden, Austria and Switzerland would probably like to join, but must tread carefully to preserve their East-West neutrality.

Q. What does this mean to us in the United States?

A. It means that if we want to continue trading in the rich common market, we must negotiate a low external tariff for the Common Market countries. Proponents of liberalized foreign trade, with the Kennedy administration as a chief drumbeater, say we must be able to offer the Common Market reduced United States tariffs in return. This, in simplified terms, is what the big, bloody fight shaping up in Congress next year is about. Protectionist, or plants in his district that might be hurt by free entry of foreign represented in Congress. Almost every congressman or senator has high tariff sentiment is strongly goods.

Bottle Tossed at Fire Truck, 4 Hurt

threw a bottle at a passing fire truck in Harlem early today and a street fight developed that injured four firemen and a civilian. Officials said they did not learn immediately exactly what caused the incident, whether it was an offshoot of an earlier bar scuffle reportedly involving firemen or whether it was unprovoked. The civilian, Antonio Rosario, 26, was hospitalized in serious condition with stab wounds.

Leaders Keep Hands Off of Selection

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and his assistant, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, are keeping hands off the maneuvering over selection of a Senate GOP policy chairman. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., and Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, have made themselves available for the post left vacant by the death of Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H. Some other contenders could show up, notably Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., and Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D.

Saltonstall now heads the conference of all Republican senators. There had been expectations he could have had the policy chairmanship without much opposition if he wanted it.

However, Saltonstall has been aligned with the party's liberal element—still a minority among the Senate's 36 Republicans.

Hickenlooper usually lines up with more conservative members of his party. Similarly, Aiken is regarded as a liberal and Mundt as a conservative.

In this situation, Dirksen and Kuchel are keeping clear of what could become a contest between opposing wings of the party. Kuchel is, classed as a liberal, with Dirksen more on the conservative side.

For all intents and purposes, the conference is the ruling body of Republican senators. All 36 members vote there on filling leadership posts, assignments to committees and other organizational matters.

Hickenlooper said in an interview he would not be interested in taking over Saltonstall's job as chairman of this group in a move giving the Massachusetts senator the policy post. This has been suggested by some members as a possible compromise to avoid a party battle.

2 Indicted on Charge of Wiretapping

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A federal grand jury Wednesday indicted State Sen. Wendell Harris and two other men on charges of wiretapping the telephones of Baton Rouge ministers.

The other two indicted were Leon Patterson, a Baton Rouge equipment firm executive, and Lawrence Hall, a Baton Rouge private detective.

All were accused of tapping the telephones of a Baton Rouge rabbi and a former Baton Rouge minister who were signers of a petition advocating racial justice.

Harris, a top segregationist and a member of the State Sovereignty Commission, was charged with intercepting a conversation and relaying it to Sovereignty Commission officials and East Baton Rouge District Attorney Sargent Pitcher.

The indictment accused Harris of receiving and intercepting a conversation between Rabbi Marvin Reznikoff and Wade Mackie, executive director of the American Friends Service Committee.

Harris and Patterson both were released on their own cognizance pending trial. Hall, who was previously convicted in state court on wiretap charges, was directed to post $3,000 bond.

Belgium Aid to Help Congo

TUNIS (AP)—Mahmoud Khari of Tunisia, chief of the United Nations civil operations in the Congo, was quoted today as saying a return of Belgian technicians could end the Congo's difficulties.

"The United Nations could never replace in the Congo the 20,000 or 30,000 Belgian technicians who had been there," Khari said in an interview with the Tunisian weekly, Jeune Afrique.

"If the Belgians return to the Congo to help the Congolese straighten out the situation, keeping the interest of the Congo in mind, the Congo could easily end its difficulties."

Khari reiterated U.N. charges that the Union Miniere, the wealthy company, exploiting Katanga's mineral riches, was behind Katanga's resistance.

Retraining Jobless Is Slow Process

By DICK LEONARD

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—The nation's first federal retraining program for the jobless has gotten off to a slow start because of all things—lack of widespread response from the people it was designed to help.

Only about 750 of the estimated 2,000 to 3,000 unemployed in West Virginia's Cabell and Wayne counties—jobless by June 30, end of the fiscal year. So far, only 200 unemployed have been certified for training, even though pay is offered to those learning new jobs.

Officials connected with the program—designed as a federal pilot project to aid areas of chronic unemployment—are puzzled and disturbed by the relatively small number of applications.

"I'm concerned," says Clark D. Todd, a coal company executive who devoted considerable time working with the Cabell-Wayne Redevelopment Commission to help start the program here. "I thought we'd get more than a token response."

"Some of our unemployed people are just going to have to face facts and change their vocations to get jobs," says D. W. Fox Jr., director of the Huntington East Trade School, where some of the retraining classes are held.

The program, set up under the U.S. Area Redevelopment Act, is financed by $15,000 in federal money. It is designed to retrain unemployed in the coal fields—rail, coal mining and industrial areas—have applied for retraining, even though pay is offered to those learning new jobs.

When the program was started, newspapers, television and radio stations participated in a publicity campaign to herald the aim of unemployment—are puzzled and disturbed by the relatively small number of applications.

"I'm concerned," says Clark D. Todd, a coal company executive who devoted considerable time working with the Cabell-Wayne Redevelopment Commission to help start the program here. "I thought we'd get more than a token response."

Some people anticipated a tremendous rush for the "get-paid-while-you-learn" program. It never came.

George Gunhoe, manager of the Huntington employment office, wasn't completely surprised that jobless workers didn't knock down doors to enroll.

"People are slow to act," he explains. "Besides, many in the area are skilled people expecting to be called back to work in plants or in the construction field."

The Huntington office lists 6,542 unemployed in its active file. These are people in the two-county area who have filed or renewed their unemployment pay claims. Many draw the maximum of $32 a week for as long as 39 weeks.

Gunhoe's staff contacted 1,015 of the likeliest prospects for retraining. Of these, 640 came in for interviews and information, with 479 interested enough to take aptitude tests.

Gunhoe reports 52 per cent of the tested applicants did not show aptitude for the courses offered—in small appliance repair, stenography, nursing aid, automatic transmission repair, typing, route salesmanship and table waiting.

The employment office staff generally got one of three answers from the unemployed prospects contacted about the retraining program.

1. I'm just not interested.

2. I expect to be called back to work soon.

3. I'm too old to be starting all over again.

No Change in Policy, Nehru Says

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today India's belated move to Portugal's three enclaves on the west coast did not mean a change in policy.

Speaking after visiting Soviet the tested applicants did not show aptitude for the courses offered—in small appliance repair, stenography, nursing aid, automatic transmission repair, typing, route salesmanship and table waiting.

The employment office staff generally got one of three answers from the unemployed prospects contacted about the retraining program.

1. I'm just not interested.

2. I expect to be called back to work soon.

3. I'm too old to be starting all over again.

President Leonid Brezhnev had endorsed the action. Nehru asserted the operation was "in the interest of world peace."

Nehru and Brezhnev spoke at a reception given for the Soviet president.

Nehru said he was surprised at statements abroad that India had changed its policies.

"We have not changed in the least our policy of peace and prosperity with every country in the world," he declared.

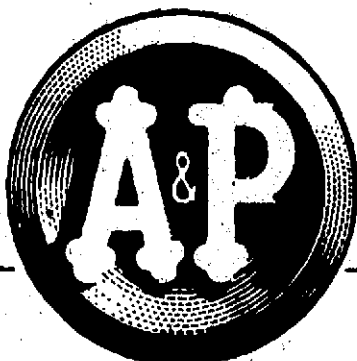

Nehru expressed India's gratitude for Soviet support in taking over Goa. This support included a veto of a U.N. Security Council motion censuring India.

Baby Sitting — A Two-Way Responsibility

Confidence is a two-way word in baby sitting: Parents on "leave of absence" must be satisfied that the sitter is responsible and prepared for emergencies, while the sitter—in turn—needs assurance that her employers will keep agreements in business-like fashion.

With more than 4 million new babies each year, sitting has become so important an industry that many communities have training courses for sitters. Among those who stress mutual responsibilities of parents and sitter is Edna Mae McIntosh, Gerber Baby Foods Nutritionist. Some points for sitters are:

1. Remind parents to provide written instructions; read them over before the parents leave, then follow directions to the letter. Near telephone, place numbers for the doctor, fire department, a neighbor and where to reach parents.
2. Never leave the children unattended.
3. Encourage advance agreements on business aspects of job.
4. Live up to arrangements on hours and wages.

Among responsibilities of the child's parents, Miss McIntosh lists:

1. Select a level-headed, dependable sitter, old enough and capable of doing the job.
2. Acquaint the sitter with the household, including the physical setup, family members, pets, family customs. That includes nap-time, bedtime, foods to be served. (Explain any food preparation such as warming baby's bottle or strained food.)
3. Be specific about business arrangements; live up to agreements. (When unavoidably delayed, telephone home, giving approximate arrival time.)
4. Provide for the sitter's safe return home, especially at night.
